

The Climax-Madisonian.

We Stand for the Purity of Home, the Supremacy of Law and the Relief of a Tax-burdened People.

OLD VOL. 41—NEW VOL. 2

RICHMOND, MADISON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 1915

Faded Paper

THE WEATHER:
Fair

NUMBER 28

OUR CIRCULATION IN RICHMOND AND MADISON COUNTY IS EQUAL TO THE COMBINED CIRCULATION OF ALL OTHER COUNTY PAPERS

Judge Mulligan Died

A Lexington Home
Judge James Mulligan died at his home in Lexington Tuesday, July 1st. James Hilary Mulligan, poet, author, legislator, diplomat, and Kentucky gentleman of the fast vanishing school, was born in Lexington, November 21, 1814.

Judge Mulligan combined law with journalism. For years he represented the Cincinnati Enquirer, the Cincinnati Gazette, Louisville Democrat and several eastern papers. In 1867 and 1868 he was associated with Col. C. P. Breckinridge in the conduct of the old Lexington Observer and Reporter. Col. Breckinridge was editor and Judge Mulligan city editor of that paper.

Following is Judge Mulligan's famous poem:

In Kentucky

The streams dance on the gladdest,

The moonlight falls the softest.

In Kentucky

The summer days come oft,

In Kentucky

Friendship is the strongest,

Love's light glows the longest,

Yet, wrong is always wrongest,

In Kentucky

Life's burdens bear the lightest,

In Kentucky;

The home fires burn the brightest,

In Kentucky;

While players are the keenest,

Cards come out the meanest,

The pocket empties cleanest,

In Kentucky.

The sun shines ever brightest,

In Kentucky;

The breezes whisper lightest,

In Kentucky;

Plain Girls are the fewest,

Their little hearts are the truest,

Maiden eyes are the bluest,

In Kentucky.

Orators are the grandest,

In Kentucky

Officials are the blankest,

In Kentucky,

Boys are the fleetest,

Danger ever highest,

Taxes are the highest,

In Kentucky.

The blue grass waves the bluest,

In Kentucky;

Yet, bluebloods are the fewest (?)

In Kentucky;

Moonshine is the clearest,

By no means the dearest,

And, yet, it acts the queerest,

In Kentucky.

The dove notes are the saddest,

In Kentucky;

The streams dance on the gladdest,

In Kentucky,

Hip pockets are the thickest,

Pistol hands are the slickest,

The cylinder turns quickest,

In Kentucky.

The song birds are the sweetest,

In Kentucky;

The thoroughbreds are fleetest,

In Kentucky;

Mountains tower proudest,

Thunder peals the loudest,

The landscape is the grandest—

And politics—the damndest,

In Kentucky.

Peculiar Malady Affecting

Hogs in Mercer.

The Harrodsburg Herald has this to say in regard to a new disease which made its appearance among the hogs in Mercer county:

Mr. Dave Teater, who lives on the Perryville pike, has suffered the loss of some very fine hogs from a very peculiar malady. The hogs did not show any sickness, never quit eating and after a hearty meal they would suddenly drop over and begin snapping their teeth, frothing at the mouth and squealing. Apparently their suffering was very great and death would come in less than half an hour. When Mr. Teater was in town Tuesday he had lost five of his nine fine hogs and said he expected to find the others gone when he got back home.

James W. Thacker, of Scott county traded his farm of 228 acres on the Oxford pike, known as the Will Finley place, to Payne Harper and John F. Payne for their one-fourth interest in the Payne estate of 600 acres on the Payne's Depot pike. The consideration was given as $22,500.

Aged Woman Burned.
Mayfield, Ky. (Special): Mrs. Mary Price, while attempting to save $5 in money when her home burned near Prayorsburg, was probably fatally burned. She is 82 years old and the mother of John Price of Mayfield, and Morgan Price of Fulton.

Petition in Bankruptcy.
Frankfort, Ky. (Special): W. K. Estes, a merchant of Pleasantville, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court here, listing liabilities as $2,078 and assets as $375.

Gets Rank of Captain.
Frankfort, Ky. (Special): Lieutenant Fred Fletcher of Carrollton, has been promoted to quartermaster, with the rank of captain, in the Kentucky National guard.

Twenty-one car loads or about 450 horses have been shipped out of Lexington over the C. & O. railroad for Newport News, whence they will be shipped to France for use in the war zone. The animals were collected in St. Louis by agents of the French government and shipped out of there to Lexington on the C. & O. railroad.

At Private Sale.
Residence, the Henry Dillingham house, 9 rooms, 2 acres of land, good, large stable with room for 4 horses; buggy-house for two vehicles, coal house, chicken-house and all necessary outbuildings. Wm. Devore, Phones 649 and 94, Richmond, Ky.

Anderson county has let a contract for courthouse repairs to A. J. Stair, of Knoxville, Tenn., for $34,722.00.

The VICTOR
is the Stenographer's Delight. Will TAKE in your old machine on exchange

Marion Lilly, Agent
RICHMOND, KY

FLY SWATTERS AT LAGRANGE

Business Men's Association Will Give Away Fly Traps.

Lagrance, Ky. (Special): The Business Men's Club of this city has become sponsor and formal supporter of a movement that has for its object that of the Amalgamated Association of Fly Swatters of Lagrange. However, instead of placing its reliance on the popular "swatter" the Business Men's association has decided to buy a large number of alluring fly traps which will be placed at various places in the city, where the conditions are such as to attract the festive fly. Notable among these are the livery stables and groceries. It is believed that the proprietors of such establishments will be glad to accept the assistance in question which was proffered at a meeting of the Business Men's association.

CANNOT INSPECT BOOKS

Burley Tobacco Company Refuse to Open Books to Vandallandham.

Lexington, Ky. (Special): Following the action of Judge Charles Kerr in dismissing demurrers of the Burley Tobacco company to the petition of J. L. Vandallandham and others, in which the plaintiffs sought to throw the company into a receivership, Vandallandham made a demand for an inspection of the books of the company, which was rejected by officers of the company. The purpose of the plaintiff's in desiring an inspection is said to be to obtain information on which to make the petition for a receiver "stick." It was refused on the ground that the interests of the stockholders would not be served by compliance with the request, but, on the other hand, it is believed that the allies will be the first to take the lead.

RUST IN GARRARD COUNTY

Wheat in Bryantsville Section Reported Badly Damaged.

Lancaster, Ky. (Special): The wheat harvest in Garrard county is about completed. It will make an average of not more than 75 per cent. Some crops in the more favored localities are almost a 100 per cent. crop, but in the less fortunate sections a half yield is the rule, while here and there are fields of wheat that were not considered worth the cutting. The exceedingly rainy weather has wrought damage to the wheat in some localities of Garrard county by causing a prevalence of rust, this being the condition of some of the tracts in the Bryantsville vicinity.

STATE TREASURY CONDITION

State Treasurer Issues Report Showing Condition of State's Finances.

Frankfort, Ky. (Special): The balance in the state treasury at the close of business June 30, as shown by the report of the auditor and treasurer was $55,423.63, as follows: Sinking fund, $5,176.30; school fund, $613,768.73; state university, $235.25; general expenditures fund, $185,243.37; balance in treasury, $55,423.63; outstanding interest-bearing warrants, $3,179,590.36; outstanding warrants May 31, $3,050,083.57.

Call Election on Road Proposition.

Lexington, Ky. (Special): The official call for a $300,000 good roads bond issue election will be made in the next week or so, according to County Judge F. A. Bullock.

The bond, if issued, will be used to reconstruct the roads of Fayette county and pay Fayette's portion of the cost of construction of a new free bridge across the Kentucky river at or near Clays ferry, to be a part of the Dixie highway.

Jail Sentence Remitted.

Frankfort, Ky. (Special): Gov. McCreary has remitted a jail sentence of ten days in the case of Dr. T. Gardner, of Estill county, convicted of carrying concealed a deadly weapon.

He paid a fine of $5 and Judge Hugh Riddell and numerous citizens petitioned for clemency.

New High School.

Barbourville, Ky. (Special): The board of education of the Barbourville high school has received $18,000 from a recent sale of school bonds, and has awarded a contract for the erection of the new high school building, to cost that amount. Work will begin at once.

Pennies Exhibit Wins.

San Francisco, July 12.—The grand prize for railroad exhibits at the San Francisco exposition has been awarded to the International jury of awards to the Pennsylvania system. The exhibit included a huge model of New York city and a relief map of the territory covered by the Pennsylvania lines, constructed on a scale of two miles to the inch.

Burning Vessel Sighted.

New York, July 12.—Passenger arriving from Liverpool on board the steamer St. Paul of the American line told of seeing an unidentified bark in flames and burning to the water edge close to the grave of the ill-fated Lusitania. That the vessel had been set afire after having been torpedoed by a German submarine was the opinion of the passenger.

At Private Sale.

Residence, the Henry Dillingham house, 9 rooms, 2 acres of land, good, large stable with room for 4 horses; buggy-house for two vehicles, coal house, chicken-house and all necessary outbuildings. Wm. Devore, Phones 649 and 94, Richmond, Ky.

5th Chapter "Diamond from the Sky" at the Opera House Friday night.

HALTED BY STAND OF MUSCOVITES

Germans Cease Offensive Operations in the West.

ALLIES MAY TAKE THE LEAD

British Military Critics Agree That the Counter Attack of the Russians Has Postponed For a Time the Necessity For Any Further Retirement of the Slav Forces—Operations in the West.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE DEMOCRATS OF MADISON COUNTY.

The Hon. H. V. McChesney, Democratic candidate for Governor, has requested me to act as Chairman of his Campaign Committee in this county.

I feel my weakness in taking hold of this matter, having had little experience in politics, but have accepted the appointment because I believe in the man and the cause he represents, and shall do my best in his behalf.

In order to accomplish anything for him, it will be necessary that I have the co-operation and support of every temperance man in the county.

Mr. McChesney is the only hope of the temperance people, either in the Democratic primary or in the final election, being the only one who is running for Governor who has advocated, without qualification, any advance legislation for the temperance cause.

I have known Mr. McChesney for some time, and it gives me pleasure to say to you that he is sincere in his advocacy of the temperance cause. He is a Christian gentleman, who takes an interest in his church, being the superintendent of a Sunday School in Frankfort and an active church worker.

He did not, therefore, advocate Statewide Prohibition for the purpose of running for Governor, for he has always been in favor of temperance legislation; but he is trying to become Governor in order that he may have more weight in advancing the cause.

Everybody knows that the sentiment in Kentucky is overwhelmingly in favor of the elimination of the Liquor Traffic from our Commonwealth. Therefore, if the temperance people will vote their sentiments and not allow the Whisky Trust to muddy the water so that they cannot see the right thing to do, Mr. McChesney will surely be Governor.

He is the only Democrat running for Governor, because he is in favor of submitting a constitutional amendment to a vote of the people in 1917, prohibiting the Liquor Traffic in Kentucky.

His opponents object to this.

They explain their position by saying that Mr. McChesney is not a Democrat.

If your dictionary does not say the word "Democrat" means "the people ruling," then a great many Democrats have been under the wrong impression for a long time.

Mr. McChesney simply wants the people to rule on this question.

His opponents do not.

Which is the Democrat?

The object of this letter is to ask you to look around in your neighborhood and arouse the temperance people to the fact that they are contending with the same people and the same arguments that have been used both in the Local Option and the County Unit campaigns; namely, distillers, liquor dealers and the Whisky Trust—personal liberty, confiscation and taxation.

Now, we know these people so well, and we know their arguments and the answers to them so well, that it would be a reflection on your intelligence for me to answer them here.

You can see my duty plainly from the above, and I hope that you will heed what I have to say, because I believe, verily, that if Mr. McChesney is defeated, then we stand a chance to lose everything we have gained in the temperance fight of a decade.

The race is between Stanley and McChesney. Stanley is backed and stands for the Liquor Traffic and the Liquor Trust.

McChesney stands for Statewide Prohibition and the elimination of the Liquor Traffic from our State.

Which do you want?

Yours truly,

L. P. EVANS,
Chairman

July 14th, 1915.

WEEKLY WAR REVIEW

One of the events of the week ending July 11 was the reversal of form shown by the

Vote For Walter Q. Park FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The Leading Candidate in the Race

WHAT IS THE USE OF REAPING A HARVEST UNLESS YOU REAP A "RESULT" FROM YOUR HARVEST. BEING CAREFUL IN GROWING YOUR CROP WILL NOT BENEFIT YOU UNLESS YOU ARE "CAREFUL" WITH YOUR MONEY WHEN YOU GET YOUR MONEY. REGULARLY BANKING THE MONEY YOU EARN FROM YOUR WORK, OR IN YOUR BUSINESS, IS THE ONE SURE WAY OF GROWING A FORTUNE. TRY IT.

BANK WITH US.

STATE BANK & TRUST COMPANY
RICHMOND, KENTUCKY

THE CHURCHES.

Rev. Magnum, of Paris, in a recent sermon took occasion to speak plainly against a certain dance that was held in that city, classing it as highly immoral. This raised a storm of protest among those who attended and a delegation of citizens called on him for the purpose of having him retract his statements. He stood his ground. Then he was severely denounced by the participants through the press of that city.

We know nothing of the facts of that case and have nothing to say in the same.

The churches are the foundations of public character and they stand for all things that are good in man or woman. But the trouble is that they are failing to stand out against some things that are detrimental to the young in the formation of their characters. They have been very tolerant and have allowed practices to creep in that are surely and certainly undermining the churches as teachers of the correct life and as the moulders of character. Cards and dancing such as is practiced in the modern dance, are not conducive to the building of a life of purity. The modern dress is not just what it should be. The tendency is to laxity in morals. The children are to be excused for this immodesty because they follow the example of the mothers of the country. You don't have to go to the ball room to find this loud, immodest dressing and the mannerism that is sure to follow in its wake. You can see it on the street any day. Some of it is so distastefully immodest that you wonder how the police let them by. The church is responsible for this to a large extent for they submit to it without demur. Some of the leaders of the church are first in cards, first in loud dressing and first in arms in the giddy dance." Unless the church stands out against this, it will as surely as the night follows day, undermine and destroy its usefulness. The public is always hypercritical and uses the time honored expression "pluck the beam from thine own eye before you seek to take it from ours."

While the church is accomplishing much in an affirmative way, it must remember that it must also stand against the small things that impair its usefulness in the community. It must destroy the things which contaminate it. Otherwise, it cannot properly do its larger and greater works.

Political activity in a church would be deplored but a preacher that fails to take cognizance of the great questions effecting the morals of the people and fails to take a firm, decided stand on these great questions, fails to fully discharge his duties as a leader of men and the moulder of opinion. It is his prerogative to preach good works and he can do so without introducing individual politics. Too long have they remained silent when they should have spoken. If they expect the politicians to reform the manners of the people, the reformation will never come.

$65,000.00.

The entries for all the offices of councilmen have been finished and the clerk has certified the names of the gentlemen who seek this important office. All the old councilmen, with the exception of Todd, stand for reelection.

A review of the city finances is in order.

The City of Richmond spends an

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that is incurable, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive remedy for this disease. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and removing the cause of disease by destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the body. It is the nature in doing its work. The proprietors have no such faith in their product as that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, HALL'S CATARRH & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, etc.

Take Hall's Catarrh Pills for constipation.

nually over $65,000.00 a year for its government. Counted down to the hour, allowing eight hours for the working day, the city spends $22.00 per hour. It is a known fact that its streets are in the worst condition for years. The treasury is empty and they say that they can do nothing to remedy them.

There is something wrong. We are not getting anything more than we did years ago but our taxes are higher than ever before in the history of the city and in addition to this we are required to list our property at a higher price for taxation than at any time before, though it is a well known fact that city property has decreased in value fully twenty-five per cent in the last few years. Very little of it is changing hands at any price.

The office of councilman is a very important office. The welfare of the city depends on these gentlemen. Richmond is a good town. It has been favored by nature. It has a fine citizenship and its people are cultured people. It has an unusual amount of personal wealth, more than any city of its size in the State. Yet, it is not the most progressive. There is some reason for this. Perhaps, we mention it merely as a suggestion it has not had the progressive spirit. The men at the helm of state have not seen the vision of the twentieth century. The methods employed by them are old, antiquated, out of date.

To get the city out of its rut, new methods must be employed and to employ new methods the best men must be put on guard—active, energetic men, alive to the progress of the world. The Republican party has not made any nominations and the men nominated at this primary will be the next councilmen. To these men you give the purse strings of the city treasury and confide to them the future progress of the city. You confide to them over two million dollars worth of property and the safety and well being of over two thousand people.

The present condition of the city is a strong and eloquent plea for reformation, a reformation that will place this good old town in the line of the twentieth century progress.

THE CHAUTAUQUA.

The Chautauqua has come and gone. It has left its indelible impress on the community. Many valuable lessons have been learned. More has been obtained from it in one week than could have been learned at one of the best universities in the land in a single term. The average attendance was perhaps over a thousand. These came from all professions and walks in life and the diffusion of this information is therefore general and of value to the community. We will have it with us for another year. We are on the big circuit. We get the best. Let us patronize it more liberally next year than ever before and in thus giving encouragement to it, we will get from it a still better programme.

PAY UP.

During the past few weeks we have mailed statements to all our subscribers who are in arrears. A few of them have responded, but the majority of them have failed to remit—if you are one of the latter kind—please get busy and send in your renewal.

The times are hard and we intend to be lenient. But if you can spare that dollar, please hand it to us because you know it takes big money to run this paper.

Your $$$ would be appreciated.

GOOD AND NO GOOD.

If you go to church Sunday you will learn something good. If you hold down the street corner you will also learn something, but it's no good.

WHOOP, HURRAH.

Years ago when the Louisiana Lottery had taken possession of the State of Louisiana and directed and controlled its government, from which vicious state of affairs the State could not free itself, the United States government, by a simple law came to its rescue. It simply said that no mail could be delivered to this vicious octopus that was sapping the life blood of that State. The result was that the lottery disappeared over night and since that time not a vestige of it has been seen in that or any other State. The work was done so quietly and so effectively that the people did not realize that it had taken place except by the result. There was no debate, no fanfare of political trumpets, no turmoil of the people. It was destroyed root and branch over night.

The same can be done with the whisky traffic. That it will be done, is certain. That it has already been started, is also certain.

Neither whisky nor brandy can any longer be classed as medicines. The United States government has decreed officially that they must be dropped from the United States pharmacopoeia, the only official medical authority for the government and classification of medicines. Under this ruling, neither of these liquors can now be prescribed as medicines by physicians. Just how far this ruling will effect local State laws allowing physicians to prescribe these liquors for medical purposes, does not appear, but inasmuch as they are no longer medicines, it would seem that a physician cannot prescribe as a medicine something that the highest authority in the land has declared not to be a medicine. Also, it will prevent drugstores in those places, where under the State laws, a druggist can now legally sell liquors as medicines, from so doing.

Uncle Tom Harris died at his residence in Union City Saturday night aged 93. He was a man of quiet demeanor and was well liked. Just before his death he said "I have another long life to live." He then lapsed into the dreamless sleep. His funeral was preached by Rev. Sommers of the Baptist church, thence his interment in the Hamilton burying grounds.

Hartford Grider, formerly of this country, died at his residence in Kansas City Friday, July 9, aged sixty. The interment was in that city. He is survived by two children, Harry Grider and Mrs. Donald Hewitt. He was a brother of Mr. W. H. Grider, of this city. His wife, who preceded him to the grave, was Miss Mollie Deatherage, a sister of Hon. N. B. Deatherage and Mrs. Sallie Corneilson, of this city.

Mrs. T. J. Smith died unexpectedly at her residence on Lancaster Avenue Tuesday at noon. She had been sick for some weeks. She is the relict of T. J. Smith who was in his life time a prominent merchant and financier of this city. She was a woman of intelligence and of strong faith in her religious views. As we go to press arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but it will probably be held Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Smith is survived by one son, Hon. T. J. Smith now State Banking Commissioner, who was with her at the end.

Later, the funeral will be at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

MARRIED

On Saturday afternoon at the Court House in the presence of a large crowd of people Mr. Floyd King and Miss Fannie Simer were made one by the Rev. A. J. Tribble. The ceremony was a most impressive one and beautifully worded.

Mr. Yank Holland, of Brassfield and Miss Rice, of Clark county were married at the home of the bride on the 3rd. With their many friends we join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Barclay July 9th, a son. Mrs. Barclay was Miss Davis daughter of Ernest Davis.

DEATHS

Uncle Tom Harris died at his residence in Union City Saturday night aged 93. He was a man of quiet demeanor and was well liked. Just before his death he said "I have another long life to live." He then lapsed into the dreamless sleep. His funeral was preached by Rev. Sommers of the Baptist church, thence his interment in the Hamilton burying grounds.

Wash Outs

The severe rains have washed the L. & N. tracks near Gilberts Creek Garrard county so bad that no passenger trains are moving. Traffic will perhaps be open today.

Silver Creek was at flood stage and crops have been injured. The water is now in its channel.

SUN'LL RISE ON TIME
IN THE MORNING
T'DAY'S HEALTH HINT—
DON'T ORDER SAUERKRAUT
IN A FRENCH RESTAURANT

CAP SKIPPER

Which Do You Want?

Which do you want Mr. Voter, the man that speaks out or the man that dodges? Walter Q. Park, candidate for the Legislature, is the only candidate for that office that has spoken out, the others are dodging. Everybody knows Park's position, what he stands for.

SECOND CHRISTIAN.

The Second Christian Church is preparing for a great day Sunday, as it is the last day for preaching services before the revival meeting which is to be conducted by Evangelist T. J. Hudspeth. In the morning the subject to be discussed is, "The Hungering Soul," and in the evening another evangelistic topic, "The Sure Judgment of Sin."

Let all the members brave the hot weather and let us have a record breaking attendance at all services as this is nothing short of what we ought to do.

G. C. Banks, Pastor.

PREACHER

The Presbyterians Sunday School picnic which was to have been held Thursday was postponed till for her no tice.

The C. W. B. M. of the Christian Church will meet at four o'clock Wednesday at the church.

Evangelist E. E. Dawson is to begin a tent meeting near Edenton this coming Saturday July 22nd. There have been hundreds of people in Madison county converted under the persuasive preaching of this able minister and a great meeting is expected at Edenton.

RAPTURE

The organization of our chorus was completed last Friday evening with thirty voices. For a while we will meet Friday evenings. The Chorus meets at the home of Mrs. Dickerson Friday evening 7:30.

Mr. Cooper, V. P. of the Foreign Missionary Society, of Cincinnati, delivered an address to the 1st Christian Church,

Sunday, from a layman's standpoint.

He was introduced by Mr. Joe L. Shuff

Postmaster of Cincinnati, who formerly lived here.

The address was well received.

FRIDAY afternoon at three o'clock the ladies of the Baptist church entertained the missionary societies of the various churches at an open session at which

Miss Belle Bennett and Mrs. Rogers, of Indiana, gave helpful and interesting talks on the part women were taking in the work in foreign and home fields.

The afternoon closed with a social hour

when frozen grape juice was served with nabiscoes.

Children's Day will be observed at the Pond Church next Sunday afternoon at 3:30. All are cordially invited.

UNION CITY TENT MEETING

A tent meeting conducted by Rev.

Brandenburg, Mrs. Burke and Rev. Bell began at this place Tuesday night with a good attendance.

BOONESBORO

The tent meeting at Boonesboro is in full blast and much good is being done.

Rev. Andy Johnson who is conducting the meeting is the prohibition candidate for Governor. Go hear him and lend encouragement to the meeting.

Big crowds, greet him despite the bad weather.

COLLEGE HILL

The tent meeting at College Hill closed Sunday night with many additions.

A subscription was taken to aid Mrs.

Burke in buying a new tent and $250.00 was quickly donated. Much good has been accomplished.

DAVID CROCKETT

The Louisville Times of July 8, contains the picture of Master David Crockett, a lineal descendant of the famous Davy of Alamo fame. He is great-great-great grandson. He is a nephew of Mrs. T. J.

Taylor, of this city and is a fine looking chap.

HOUSE FOR SALE

I wish to sell privately my house and lot located on Irvine pike, near Richmond. Lot is 50x176 feet; house contains 4 rooms, in good repair, and is occupied by good tenant. This property will make a good investment for some one.

For particulars call on

WILLIS MOORES,

28-14 at Climax Office.

ALHAMBRA

Where The Best People Go
OPEN 1:30 TO 5
6 TO 10:30

TODAY—Pathé offers the most talked of serial of the day

"WHO PAYS"

Each episode is in THREE PARTS and has a finished ending. first drama in the series of 12 episodes on vital question of life. This serial is "JUST A LITTLE DIFFERENT THAN THE REST." RUTH ROLAND and HARRY KING will star in this wonderful production.

Good Juicy Steaks Lackey & Todd,
Phone 02. 7-1f
Pure Country Sorghum at Lackey &
Todd's. 6-1f
Give Elmer Tate a call for anything in his line. Phone 793. 4-1f

Don't fail to attend the Camp Meeting at Boonesboro, July 8-18. 27-21 J. W. Crooke is agent for tobacco and insurance companies. 27-41

The lawyers will tell you that Jas. W.
Wagers has made a good deputy Circuit
Clerk. 10-1f

Registered Ky. Berkshire Swine for sale all times—both sexes. Wm. B. Tur-ley. Phone 100. Richmond, Ky. 25-1f

See Breck & Evans about that Life Insurance policy you ought to have.
They have the company. 19-1f

Drive in and hitch your horse with El mer Tate. One price and courteous treatment to all—Irvine street. 4-1f

The Victor typewriter is the newest and best machine on the market.
27-1f Marion Lilly, Agent.

I am prepared to write tobacco and insurance in good company at the lowest rates. Call on me before placing your insurance. J. W. Crooke. 27-41

AGENTS—Donahue writes, "I sell nine out of ten." Scranton makes over $40 weekly. Big money selling our brand new 25 kitchen utensil. Mail postcard for full information. Samples 25c. H.
W. E. Mfg. Co., 27-7th St., Birmingham,
N. Y. 28-4t

For Sale.
Rubber tired invalid chair, good as new. Inquire at this office. 28-1f

Found Breast Pin.
Gold Breast pin on Second Street.
Call at Climax Office for same 27-21

Hampshiredown Buck Lambs
I have for sale some very good Hampshiredown Buck Lambs. 23-4f A. R. Burnam.

Violin Lessons.
I am beginning a class in violin and can take a few more students.
Miss Anna Boone Telford, Cämpus.
26-4t

12 Cent Gasoline.
Best Crown Gasoline 12 cents a gallon at Joe Giunchigliani's. Save the difference. 27-4t

Travelers Checks.
Before starting on a trip don't fail to call at the Madison National Bank and get a travelers check good in any civilized country in the world. 24-6t

Lost Dog.
Female yellow hound dog. Spot in forehead, ring around neck. Liberal reward. J. S. GRIGGS,
Newby Ky

See Breck & Evans for Hail insurance on your tobacco 10-1f

Notice to Tax Payers.
Your City Taxes for the year 1915, are now due and in my hands for collection. You are requested to call and settle. On all taxes not paid on or before November 1st, the penalty prescribed by Ordinance will be attached, also interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum will be charged on all taxes in my hands after November 1, 1915
Office City Hall, corner First and Irvine streets. Respectfully
T. C. O'Neil,
City Collector.

Piano - Tuning
Does Your Piano Sound Bad? Call
A. C. MARSHALL
Leader of Opera House Orchestra
Phone 318 Richmond, Ky

"I Don't Feel Good"
That is what a lot of people tell us.
Usually their bowmen need cleaning.
Recall Orderlies
will do the trick and make you feel fine.
We know this positively. Take one tonight. Sold only by us, 10 cents.
Henry L. Perry.

You can have a splendid outing at the
Camp Meeting at Boonesboro, July 8-18.
27-2t

Free Free Free
Bank Stamps
—AT—
KENNEDY BROS

Call at our store and get a Bank Stamp Book and Premium List. You can furnish your home absolutely free by saving Bank Stamps.

We Give Them With All Purchases at Our Store
You pay no more for your groceries, etc., than elsewhere and get Bank Stamps as a reward for your purchases. You can have your choice of

Over 500 Useful, Valuable and Ornamental
Household Articles

No game of chance—everyone gets a valuable premium.

START COLLECTING TODAY

SPECIAL COUPON—10 Extra Stamps Free

Present this Coupon at our store when making a purchase of 50 cents or more and get TEN extra stamps in addition to those you receive with your purchase.

KENNEDY BROS—Staple and Fancy Groceries

Phone 153 East Main Street, opposite Zaring's Mill

In Society*Smiles

Are you feeling cross today?

Stop and smile,

And, of course, if you feel gay,

Why, you'll smile.

You will find that it will pay

If everywhere and every day

At your work and at your play

You will smile—just smile.

Have you got the blues today?

Try to smile.

Ten to one they'll go away

If you smile.

You will find it helps a lot

Sort of makes you feel tip-top,

If you smile—just smile."

Governor McCreary Host at Reception For Association

All roads led to the mansion last evening when James B. McCreary was the host at a beautiful reception in honor of Mr.

John Barret Moore, of New York, and the members of the Kentucky Bar Association, who are holding a two-days' meeting in the city. The hours of the entertainment were from 9 to 12 o'clock, during which time representatives of the bar and of resident and official life of the Capital City and of the State to the number of several hundred thronged the rooms to pay their respects to the Governor. The full dress uniforms of the Kentucky Colonels, a number of whom were present, and the handsome gowns worn by the women, in numerous instances, set off with jewels gave a brilliant aspect to one of the most notable gatherings of the year.

Important Notice

On Sunday July 8th at 10:45 A. M.

The Pastor of the Methodist church will deliver a sermon-lecture on "Vote Buying and Selling." This sermon has received wide publicity; it was read to the Grand Jury of this County. Voters and all who are interested in good clean government are cordially invited.

Let the people come to hear for instruction and profit.

B. C. Horton, Pastor.

Kellogg Tour:

The following card has been received from Mr. M. C. Kellogg:

San Francisco, Cal.: July 2
3:30 P. M.

Twenty eighth day out. We have had more trouble many a time on the trip from Richmond to Lexington than I have had in all this long one.

Total miles, 3133; miles since last report, 131; weather fine; roads, fine.

Will send no more cards till I start for

Los Angeles from here. Have changed only one tire all the way. The other three had Kentucky air in them when I reached here.

M. C. Kellogg.

Feature Pictures every night at the Opera House.*Burglary.

Mondays night cracksmen entered the store of the late J. B. Stouffer and opened the safe taking there from $15 in cash. No checks or papers were molested.

An entrance was effected from a rear window. The tools with which they operated were left. They had been stolen from the Richmond Carriage Works.

A gold dollar dated 1852 which Mr.

Stouffer had long possessed and treasured, was stolen from the safe. No clews.

Hauling of all kinds promptly done.
Elmer Tate, Irvine street. Phone 783. 4

Conscience hurt you as how to vote?
Settle the matter. Vote "dry" for Walter Q. Park for Representative, only
"dry" candidate on the ticket. 28-4t

The Danville Fair.

The Danville Fair has for many years been one of Central Kentucky's notable events. Boyle county, a fine county,

Danville, a fine town, her people no better on earth, all contribute to make the fair an event, worthy of note. Liberal premiums are offered and every courtesy is shown visitors, everything done that contributes to the pleasure and comfort of her guests. Remember the date

July 21 to 23. Advertisement elsewhere in this paper. Fair catalogues may be obtained at the Climax office or by addressing Jno. S. Baumhart, Secretary, Danville, Ky.

You can have a splendid outing at the

Camp Meeting at Boonesboro, July 8-18.

27-2t

PERSONALS

Mr. Tom Knight, of Dallas, Texas is visiting Mr. W. W. Watts of this city.

Mrs. S. D. Parrish, Miss Hattie Lee Million and others composed the merry party which started Saturday, the 3rd, for the California exposition.

E. C. Park has returned from Irvine.

Mr. B. G. Nelson of Hopkinsville, was in the city last week in consultation with

Hon. T. H. Collins and Geoffrey Morgan

in the Ro's Corn Club. He is a pleasant gentleman and an efficient organizer.

Mrs. H. Hasbrouck Haynes, of Detroit,

Mich., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton C. Covington at Maplewood.

Mr. Earl McDougle left Monday morning for Owensboro, with the McCraeys

Guard for a month's encampment.

Mrs. Mary F. Gaines left Friday for Louisville to visit relatives for several weeks.

Miss Anna Belle Ward and family have moved into the Greenleaf residence on Lancaster Ave.

Mr. Earl Smith who formerly lived in this city has been the guest of relatives during Chautauqua.

Mr. Frank E. Jennings, of Jacksonville, Fla., stopped over in Richmond on his way home from Washington City and was the guest of Mrs. J. W. Caperton last week.

Col. and Mrs. H. B. Hanger attended the reception given by Gov. McCrae to the Bar Association on Thursday evening at the mansion and were in the receiving line.

Mrs. R. B. Terrill is visiting Mrs. T. M.

Wells at Frankfort.

Mr. Shoop, of Danville, was in this city

Thursday advertising the Danville fair and the Hercules automobile for which he is agent. He and his wife, and Rev. W. T.

May and wife motored from Danville and were the guests of Miss Vivian May at Sullivan Hall.

Mrs. C. D. Chepauk visited Mrs. George

Goodloe and other relatives the latter part of the week.

Straw Hats 1/2 PRICE

$6.00 | Panamas $3.75
$5.00

Gaps and Felt Hats 10 Per Cent Off.

Hanan, Speedwell, Walk-Over

Oxfords

$7.00	OXFORDS	$5.60
6.00	OXFORDS	4.80
5.00	OXFORDS	4.00
4.50	OXFORDS	3.60
4.00	OXFORDS	3.20
3.50	OXFORDS	2.80
3.00	OXFORDS	2.40

SHOES NOTICE

10% DISCOUNT

Watch Our Windows
for Specials

The Store
With a Conscience

R. C. H. COVINGTON CO.

SHIRTS

$3.00 and 2.50 SHIRTS $1.95

2.00 and 1.50 SHIRTS 1.35

1.25 and 1.00 SHIRTS .85

ALL KINDS! ALL SIZES!

Boys' Suits

$10.00	Now	$7.50
8.50 and 8.00	Now	6.50
7.50 and 7.00	Now	5.50
6.50 and 6.00	Now	4.50
5.00 and 4.50	Now	4.00
4.00 and 3.50	Now	2.75

ONE LOT
NOT NORFOLK 1-2 price

FURNISHINGS

Odd Pants

20%
DISCOUNT

Watch Our Windows
for Specials

You Have Waited So Here You Are!

Just a little too far up the street we know, but we are willing to pay you for your walk, continued cool weather and a bad location has forced us

To Make These Prices

We have no place to PACK SUMMER CLOTHES so have made prices which we know will sell them.

$30.00	Suits	now	$22.00	$18.00	Suits	now	$13.00
$27.50	Suits	now	20.00	$15.00	Suits	now	12.00
$25.00	Suits	now	18.00	$12.50	Suits	now	10.00
$22.50	Suits	now	16.00	$10.00	Suits	now	8.00
$20.00	Suits	now	15.00	ONE LOT for the man who wants service, not style.	1	2 Price

"Genuine Palm Beach"

Positively Will Not Shrink

$8.50	SUITS	$6.95	$10.00	Suits	now	7.95
$8.00				EXTRA PANTS	$2.45

Richmond's Largest
Men and Boys Store

Daddy's Bedtime

How the River
Traveled to The Sea.

"WELL, kiddies, I'm ready to answer the question you asked me to day when we were rowing on the river."

"'Goodby, doody!' shouted Jack and Evelyn, swarming all over daddy's knees. They were in their nighties, so daddy cuddled them close and told them about how the river traveled to the sea."

"Let us make believe," began daddy, "that there is a river spirit who lives away up in the mountains, so high that maybe we could never find his hiding place. He is a very ambitious spirit and always wants work to do, so every day he starts out with his divining rod to see if he can find a 'well eye' as a beginning for his river."

"He is a pretty happy fairy when he finds one because he knows he has found hidden water. He waves his wand, and the 'well eye' becomes so full that it naturally has to have an outlet, so, of course, the water, instead of being naughty and wanting to run away uphill, runs right down the mountain."

"At first there is hardly any depression in the ground over which the water flows. You see, the tiny little stream has no bed that it can call its own. But a little farther down the side of the mountain the river gathers force from other streams and rills.

"But one day the river was afraid. It had come to a great high precipice. 'There is no room to turn,' cried the river spirit. 'Just you tumble right over. You'll be caught all safe at the bottom.'

"So timid little stream took courage and leaped gayly down the precipice, dashing pearly spray and foam as it fell. Sure enough, when it reached the bottom of the precipice, it found a bed all ready made for it; not a nice soft one like mamma makes for you kiddies, but a hard rocky bed.

"After a while, still cheered on by the river spirit, it grew bolder and stronger and more intrepid.

"Cities were built on its high banks, and the river whispered: 'Let me give you my wealth; take the fishes in my waters; let me turn your water wheels and grind your corn and wheat; take my water and water your land so it will be more fertile and grow more wheat and corn; make great boats and I will carry them for you, for I desire more than anything else to be useful to man.'

"When the river reached the sea it was no longer the timid stream that feared to tumble over the precipice, and it rushed right into the sea and wasn't afraid of the great waves at all."

"Daddy, that is a very good story, but where does the hidden water come from?" asked Jack thoughtfully.

"Go to bed, kiddies. I've got to read my paper," said daddy.

Public Sale of Lots For City Taxes.

I will on Thursday July 29th, 1915, at 2 o'clock p.m., in front of the City Hall corner First and Irvine streets in the City of Richmond, Ky., sell for cash for unpaid City tax bills, penalty, interests and costs for the year 1914, the following parties' property, real estate or enough thereof, to pay the amounts specified below if not paid before said date.

T. C. O'Neill, City Tax Collector.

WHITE LIST.

John Thos. Adams.....	$16.41
Dave Bybee.....	5.25
Wm. Coates.....	7.35
N. A. Durham.....	35.76
Kaliagh Harrison.....	19.56
Dudley G. Hendricks.....	10.06
Mrs. Mittie Hurst.....	12.22
R. H. Myers.....	9.09
John Peel.....	12.58
Mrs. Minnie Terrill.....	19.20
Jno. D. Treadaway.....	28.27
Thos. Daniels.....	22.88
Addie Tillman.....	15.72
D. W. Vandiver.....	19.20
Mrs. Elsie B. White.....	36.04
Bessie White (n).....	3.53
Miss Mattie Woods.....	7.82

COLORED LIST

Mamie Ballew.....	$3.53
Hattie Ballard.....	5.25
Everitt Ballard.....	7.35
Katie Bates.....	5.25
Gorden Barnett.....	5.95
Sallie Black.....	8.74
Presley Black.....	5.53
Jim Biggers.....	7.35

Pompadour Silk Evening Gown

Designed by Joseph, New York.

Personal

Phone 638 or 659 for all personal items.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dean spent last week in Atlanta, Georgia.

Mrs. J. G. Crabbe spent last Monday in Lexington with friends.

Mrs. John Mason has been the guest of Mrs. Chas. Higgins for Chautauqua.

Mrs. Robt. T. Bruce, of Standford, is visiting her mother, Mrs. G. B. Turley.

Miss Mary Olivia White has returned to Danville after a visit to relatives here.

Mr. Joe Gwynne spent the past week with his brother, Prof. E. W. Cwynne.

Miss Yeager, of Lexington, has been the recent guest of Mrs. Lewis Schlegel.

Mr. J. D. Goodloe spent the week with his mother, Mrs. James Bennett.

Mrs. J. E. Moore, of Florida, was the guest last week of Mrs. Simeon Turpin.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gentry left last week for two months stay in California.

Miss Anne Bennett Cohen was the guest of Mrs. Jack Collins for Chautauqua week.

If the names of yourself or guests do not appear in this paper, whose fault is it? We can't know by intuition either that you were visiting or had friends with you. Did you tell us? Don't hesitate to do so. Never too busy to serve you.

We want the country people to use these columns, too. Write, call or phone; and the earlier the better.

Mrs. Lila Logan, of Iowa, is spending several weeks with Madison county relatives.

Miss Elise Smith has returned to her home in Frankfort after a visit to relatives here.

Miss K. V. Schmidt is visiting friends and relatives in Versailles, Frankfort and Lexington.

Misses Ruth and Mary Clark of Midway, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pates for Chautauqua.

Miss Laura Schmidt is in Frankfort for a visit to friends and will go on from there to Lexington.

Miss Bettie Perry was the attractive guest of Mrs. J. W. Zaring during Chautauqua.

Misses Burnam Taylor and Marrietta Hackett left several days ago for a lengthy visit in Tennessee.

Mesdames A. D. and Chas. Miller were the weekend guests of Mrs. Henry James on Broadway.

Miss Ruth Wiggins is in Dallas, Texas visiting her sister, Mrs. Jarmon; she will also spend some time in Oklahoma with another sister, Mrs. Glotfelter.

Miss Anna Powell is in Richmond visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Short and babies.

Mr. G. M. Lyons was in Richmond Monday on business.... Miss Eunice Prather left Monday for a vacation of two weeks visiting relatives in Richmond and Lexington.—Lancaster Record.

Mrs. J. M. Williams is in North Carolina, visiting relatives and also on a business trip. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have the unique distinction of being large land owners on the Dixie Highway in this state and also in North Carolina. Mrs. Williams is looking after her holdings in the latter state.

Miss Elizabeth Adams, of Richmond, returned to her home Monday, after an enjoyable visit with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Adams and friends.... Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dunn, of Whites Station spent week-end with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Adams.... C. M. Canfield motored to Richmond one day last week.—Berea Citizen.

Miss Erskine Garland has returned to her home in West Va. after spending some time with her mother, Mrs. James Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Thorpe were the guest last week of Mrs. Simeon Turpin.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gentry left last week for two months stay in California.

Thompson Burnam, Jr., of Richmond, is with Vincent Bartlett.... Miss Henrietta Bartlett was with Richmond friends.—Anderson News.

A lovely compliment to the gifted singer, Miss Nielsen, was the exquisite bunch of roses sent to her on Thursday evening by the Music Clubs of Richmond.

Mrs. Waller Bennet entertained on Friday with an informal dinner party for the guests of Mrs. Neale Bennett and Mrs. H. Banger.

Mrs. Sam Johnson C. Johnson, her daughter, Miss Florence, and her son, Allen, motored from Lancaster and were the guests of Mr.

Gen. Grant's Night in Madison County.

A visit from Dr. William F. Francis of St. Louis, to Berea and vicinity last week confirmed and made definite the rumor that General Grant once spent a night in Madison County.

The facts are these: Dr. Francis was himself a native of this county and his father kept a "stand" on the great thoroughfare leading from Kentucky to the sea-board through Cumberland Gap. Another of these hosteries, called the "Jones' Stand," was near the foot of the famous Big Hill.

Dr. Francis, as a boy of ten, was intimate with the Jones family, and afterwards lived himself in the Jones house. He was visiting at the Jones house at the time of the Battle of Richmond. He saw Metcalf's Union Cavalry pass up the Hill to find the location of the invading army; saw them retreat later in the day, and the great Confederate army march past—veterans who were great fighters, though with ragged uniforms. That night he saw the glare of the camp-fire on the sky and at the crack of dawn the next morning, September 30, heard the report of a cannon answered by three other shots, and followed by the roar of battle. That morning a number of wounded Confederates were brought to the "Jones' Stand," and laid on the grass in the yard, where most of them died in agony the following night. Their bodies were interred back of the house, and some remained there still.

Dr. Francis was not there on the occasion of General Grant's visit the next spring, but heard the incident described repeatedly by members of the family who were there. Mr. Jones' three sons were in the Confederate army, and Jones himself had been warned to leave, because of his bitter talk against the Government. His wife, daughters and youngest son were conducting the "stand."

General Grant came from the South without an army but with perhaps a dozen staff officers and attendants, reaching the stand about supper time, and taking supper, lodging and breakfast there, proceeding the next morning to Lexington, where he was to take the cars.

He occupied the "office," a small building immediately adjacent to the house with its separate chimney, which stands today in substantially the same condition. The people spoke of him as the silent, taciturn man we have often heard described, courteous but reserved.

Across from the "stand" was the United States Commissary, where stores of army supplies of all kinds were issued to passing regiments and wagons. On the same side with the house, a few rods north, was a blacksmith's shop, the log walls of which are still standing.

This property now constitutes a part of Berea College forest reserve, and is occupied by Mr. Carrier.

Dr. Francis is a most distinguished surgeon and medical instructor in St. Louis—one of the men who reflects credit on Madison County. His visit this summer has been a pleasure to a great number of old friends, and he has certainly made many new ones.—Berea Citizen

A Good Household Salve

Ordinary ailments and injuries are not of themselves serious but infection or low vitality may make them so. Don't neglect a cut, sore, bruise or hurt, because it's small. Blood poison has resulted from a pin-prick or scratch. For all such ailments Bucklin's Arnica Salve is excellent. It protects the skin from infection and kills infection and prevents dangerous complications. Good for all Skin Blemishes. Pimples. Salt Rheum Eczema. Get an original 2 ounce 25c. box from your Druggist.

Over the Hill.

Over the hill to the poor house, I'm setting a sizzling pace,
I've mortgaged the home for an auto and I'm playing her straight for the place.
There are others well up in the running,
but I'm holding my own,
you bet.
I can see the roof of the country farm and
I'm going to get there yet.
Of course I couldn't afford it (there are very few who can.)
But the family whine about it and insisted I wasn't a man.
If I didn't get six cylinders, a tonneau,
some tires and plugs.
And go out and speed on the highway with the automobile bugs.
The girls had to hire a "shuffer," a lantern-jawed son-of-a-gun.
And when sunny goes out for a joy ride
I'm sorry he hasn't one.
For whenever he hits a lamp post or sends the old car in a ditch
I cough up some spondulix to flatten the bloated rich.
Whoopee, clear the way, for I'm coming just passed a bunch of my friends,
All bent in the same direction, where the road of the scorcher ends.
It's the pace of a drunken sailor at the helm of a rudderless ship,
Over the hill to the poor house, I'm hitting a Helva clip.—Ex.

Special Car
Building to Carry Liberty Bell Exposition is Given Its First Test.

Philadelphia, June 30.—Preliminary tests of the specially built steel flat car on which the Liberty Bell will be transported across the continent to the California exposition were completed today. Traveling at the rate of fifty-five miles an hour over a net work of switches in a local freight yard, a glass filled with water was placed on the floor of the car and not a drop was spilled.

The car is of all steel construction, capable of carrying a weight of more than 100,000 pounds. An electrical generator installed beneath the platform operated by the axle will charge the batteries for the hundreds of incandescent lamps with which the bell will be illuminated during the nights on the journey.

Cone Johnson, Solicitor of the State Department, has been designated by President Wilson as the orator for the Fourth of July independence square celebration which precedes the departure of the historic relic.

Tired, Aching Muscles Relieved
Hard work, over exertion, mental and nervous strain. Sloan's Liniment lightly applied, a little quiet, and your soreness disappears like magic. "Nothing ever helped like your Sloan's Liniment. I can never thank you enough," writes one grateful user. Stops suffering, aches and pains. An excellent antiseptic, irritant, balsam and cleanser than medicated. All druggists, 25c. Get a bottle today. Penetrates without rubbing, adv.

BUSINESS MEN WHO APPRECIATE YOUR PATRONAGE

McKinney & Deatherage Staple & Fancy Groceries

BRANCH OF THE E. L.

MANCHESTER PRODUCE COMPANY

INCORPORATED
DEALERS IN AND SHIPPERS OF

Live and Dressed Poultry Game, Eggs and Country Produce

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE PHONE 45

123 Irvine Street RICHMOND, KY
We Will Buy Your Turkey Crop

Field and Garden Seeds

Hay, Corn and Oats

Exclusive Agts. Maxwell House Coffee
Votan Coffee and Tea and Lexington Cream Flour

35 and 42

Prompt Delivery Service

West Main

Uncle Sam is Worried

about the high price of meats.
We wish they were lower ourselves. But we cut down the cost by selling

Such Fine Meats

that there is no waste whatever. Suppose you order it now and we'll take care that you get it on time and of the choicest

Chas. Culton

Fresh and Cured Meats

125

BURTON ROBERTS, PROPRIETOR

SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS - - AUTOS FOR HIRE
Overland Car

Electric Lights and Starter, Demountable Rims, Extra Tire, One-man Top, 35 horse power Engine.
This Car is Fully Equipped.

5-passenger $750 f. o. b. Toledo

BLANTON LUMBER CO.

INCORPORATED

Manufacturers of and Dealers in

High Grade Building Materials

We can furnish you a superior grade of material for the new House, Barn or Fence, or any repairs you wish to make FOR LESS MONEY than you can buy it elsewhere

Hard Wood Flooring

PHONE

425

THE COLUMBIA "ECLIPSE"

YOUR Summer's fun will not be complete without this Columbia "Eclipse." You can secure the "Eclipse" and 14 Selections on 7 Columbia Double-Disc Records for only

$29.55

Over 250 selections of the Latest Music to choose from

W. F. HIGGINS

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves and Ranges

For Comfort and Economy
Put Water in Your Kitchen

Also add a Gas Range and Water Heater

YOU WILL FIND THEM AT THE OFFICE OF

Richmond Water & Light Co
Incorporated

OLDHAM AND HARBER
MAXWELL
AUTOMOBILES

Corner 2nd & Water Sts.
Richmond, Ky.

H. L. PERRY

The Drug Store With the Reputation

At Your Service

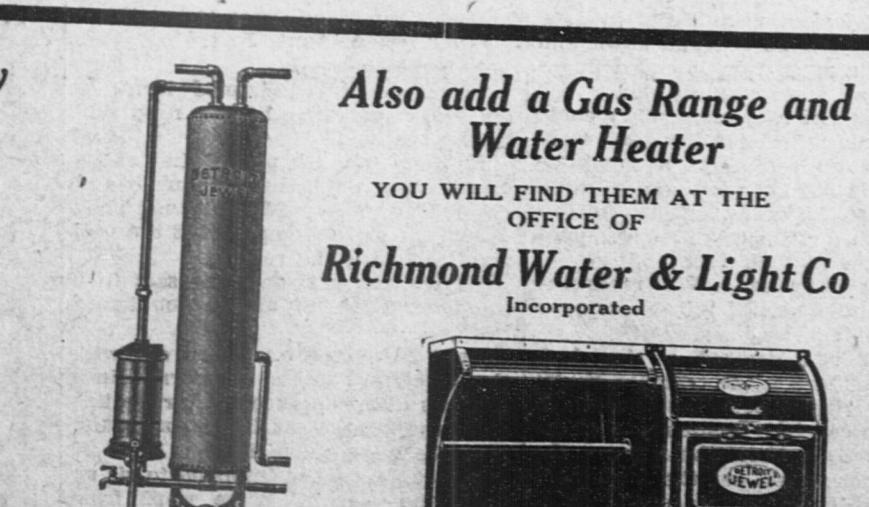

75

$29.55

WAGONS & BUGGIES
W. Arthur Todd

$29.55

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE
The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathé Players and the Eclectic Film Company
Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company. All Foreign Rights Reserved.

SYNOPSIS.

The New York police are mystified by a series of deaths and other crimes. The principal clue to the criminal is the warning letter which is sent to the victims, suggesting that "Long Sin" is the latest victim of the mysterious assassin in Taylor Dodge, the insurance president. In the meantime, Craig Kennedy, the famous scientific detective, tries to unravel the mystery. What Kennedy does not know is that his friend Jameson is a newspaper man.

After many fruitless attempts to put the pieces of the Craig Kennedy puzzle together, the Clutching Hand is at last found. It is the mastermind behind the plot. Elsie, lawyer and the maid who is engaged to marry Bennett flees to the den of one of the Chinese criminals. The German forces from Berlin the secret of the whereabouts of $10,000,000. Then he gives the lawyer a potion which will save her life. He turns and reaches Bennett's side just after he has lost consciousness and supposes him dead.

SEVENTEENTH EPISODE

THE WATCHING EYE.

No clue had been left by the kidnappers when they had so mysteriously spirited Elaine away from the apartment of Wu Fang. She had disappeared as completely as if she had vanished into thin air.

Kennedy was frantic. Wu and Long Sin themselves seemed to have vanished, too. Where they held her, what had happened to her, was a sealed book. And yet no move of ours was made, no matter how secret, that it did not seem to be known to them. It was as though a weird, uncanny eye glared at us watching everything.

Craig neglected no possibility in his eager search. He even visited the little house in the country which had been given to Aunt Josephine and spent several hours examining the collapsed subterranean chamber, the vain hope that it might yield a clue. But it had not.

Unescapably, he was forced to the conclusion that not only Elaine's amazing disappearance, but the tragic succession of events which had preceded it had been caused, in some way, by the curiously engraved ring which Aunt Josephine had taken from her.

Craig had taken possession of the mystic ring himself, and now, forced back on this sole clue, it had occurred to him that if the ring were so valuable, other attempts would, without doubt, be made to get possession of it.

I came into the laboratory, one afternoon, and Kennedy surrounded by jeweler's tools, and work making an exact copy of the ring.

"What do you think of it, Walter?" he asked, holding up the replica.

"Perfect," I replied, admiringly. "What are you going to do with it?"

"I can't say—yet," answered Kennedy, forlornly, "but if I understand these Chinese criminals at all, I know that the only way we can ever track them is through some trick. Perhaps the replica will suggest something to us later."

"Let's see if Aunt Josephine has received any word," he remarked abruptly, putting on his hat and coat, and nodding to me to follow.

Kennedy and I were not the only visitors to the subterranean chamber where it had seemed that the clue to the Clutching Hand's millions might be found.

It was as though that hidden, watching eye had known. The night after our own unsuccessful search, Wu Fang accompanied by Long Sin, made his way into the cavern.

We hurried over to his henchman, and together they tried to decipher what had been scratched on the rock.

As Long Sin's slender and sinister forefingers traced over the inscription Wu suddenly caught him by the elbow.

"The ring!" he cried, as at last he interpreted the meaning of the cryptic characters.

But what about the ring? For a moment Wu looked at the slot in deep thought. Then he reached down and withdrew a ring from his own finger and dropped it into the slot.

Nothing happened. Wu recovered his ring. But he had hit at last upon the Clutching Hand's secret!

Bennett had devised a ring lock which would open the treasure vault! No other ring except the one which had been to the hilt with the size or weight that would move a lever which would set the machinery working to open the treasure house.

Again Wu tried another of his own rings, and a third time; Long Sin dropped in a ring from his finger. Still there was no result.

Aunt Josephine, clasping the jewel case tightly, mounted the stairs and entered her room. She locked the door carefully and put the jewelry case under her pillow. Then she switched off the light.

A moment later a small piece of the vase seemed to break away from the rest of the mosaic, as though it were knocked out from the inside. Then a large piece fell out, and another.

At last from the strange hiding place a lithesome figure, as shifty as though bathed in oil, naked except for a loincloth, seemed to squirm forth like a snake, literally as well as figuratively, had been leveled at us in one form or another ever since the kidnaping of Elaine.

Silently he tiptoed to the doorway and listened. There was not a sound. Just as noiselessly then he went back to the library table and, muffling the telephone bell, took down the receiver. He whispered a number, waited, then whispered some directions.

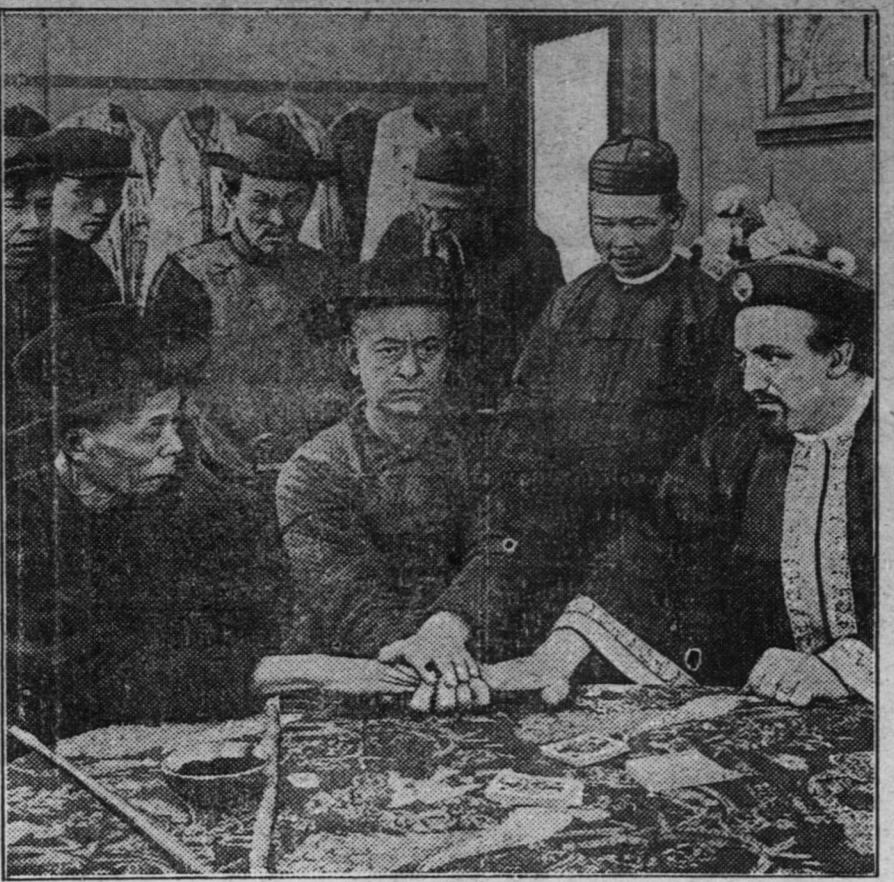

Long Sin followed his master with a sort of intuition. "If we have to steal it," he suggested deferentially, "it can be accomplished best by making use of the Chong Wah Tong."

The tong was the criminal band which they had offended, which had in fact stolen the ring from Long Sin and sold it to Elaine. Yet the game such as this, this only could not last when it was mutually disadvantageous.

Wu took the suggestion. He decided finally to make peace with his enemies and use them.

Later that night, in his car, Wu stopped near the little curio shop kept by the new tong leader.

Wu, followed by his slave in crime, entered the curio shop and passed through with great dignity into the room in the rear. As the two entered, the tong men bowed with great respect.

"Let Us Be Enemies No More," Says Wu

"Let us be enemies no more," began Wu briefly, "but let us rather help each other as brothers."

He extended his right hand, palm down, as he spoke. For a moment the tong leader parleyed with the others, then stepped forward and laid his own hand, palm down, over that of Wu. One of the others did the same, including Long Sin, the aggrieved.

Peace was restored.

Wu had arisen to go, and the tong men were bowing a respectful farewell. He turned and saw a large vase. For a moment he paused before it. It was an enormous affair and was apparently composed of a mosaic of rare Chinese enamels, cunningly put together by the deft and patient fingers of the Oriental craftsmen. Emerging from the widely curving bowl below was an extremely long, narrow, tapering neck.

We looked at it intently; then an idea seemed to strike him. He called the tong leader and the others about him.

Quickly he outlined the details of a plan.

"Have you received any word yet?" asked Aunt Josephine anxiously, when Jennings had ushered us into the Dodge library.

Kennedy shook his head sadly. A few minutes later Jennings entered the room softly again. "The expressmen are outside, ma'am, and a large package," he said.

Aunt Josephine followed him out into the hall.

There, already, the delivery man had set down a huge Oriental vase with a remarkably long and narrow neck. It was, as befitting such a really beautiful object of art, most carefully crated.

But to Aunt Josephine, it came as a complete surprise. "I can't imagine who could have sent it," she temporized. "Are you quite sure it is from me?"

The expressman, with a book, looked up from the list of names, down which he was running his finger. "This is Mrs. Dodge, isn't it?" he asked, pointing with his pencil to the entry with the address following. "There seemed to be no name of a child in the list."

"Yes," she replied, dubiously. "But I don't understand it. Wait just a moment."

She went to the library door. "Mr. Kennedy," she said, "may I trouble you and Mr. Jameson a moment?"

We followed her into the hall, and there stood gazing at the mysterious gift, while she related its recent history.

"Why not set it up in the library?" I suggested, seeing that the expressmen were getting ready at the delay.

"If there is any mistake they will send for it. No one ever gets anything for nothing."

Aunt Josephine turned to the expressmen and nodded. With the aid of Jennings they carried the vase into the library, and there it was uncrated.

Craig walked around the vase, looking at it critically. I had a feeling of being watched, one of those sensations which psychologists tell us are usually a sign of fear.

"What do you think of it, Walter?" I asked, holding up the replica.

"Perfect," I replied, admiringly. "What are you going to do with it?"

"I can't say—yet," answered Kennedy, forlornly, "but if I understand these Chinese criminals at all, I know that the only way we can ever track them is through some trick. Perhaps the replica will suggest something to us later."

"Let's see if Aunt Josephine has received any word," he remarked abruptly, putting on his hat and coat, and nodding to me to follow.

Kennedy and I were not the only visitors to the subterranean chamber where it had seemed that the clue to the Clutching Hand's millions might be found.

It was as though that hidden, watching eye had known. The night after our own unsuccessful search, Wu Fang accompanied by Long Sin, made his way into the cavern.

We hurried over to his henchman, and together they tried to decipher what had been scratched on the rock.

As Long Sin's slender and sinister forefingers traced over the inscription Wu suddenly caught him by the elbow.

"The ring!" he cried, as at last he interpreted the meaning of the cryptic characters.

But what about the ring? For a moment Wu looked at the slot in deep thought. Then he reached down and withdrew a ring from his own finger and dropped it into the slot.

Nothing happened. Wu recovered his ring. But he had hit at last upon the Clutching Hand's secret!

Bennett had devised a ring lock which would open the treasure vault! No other ring except the one which had been to the hilt with the size or weight that would move a lever which would set the machinery working to open the treasure house.

Again Wu tried another of his own rings, and a third time; Long Sin dropped in a ring from his finger. Still there was no result.

Aunt Josephine, clasping the jewel case tightly, mounted the stairs and entered her room. She locked the door carefully and put the jewelry case under her pillow. Then she switched off the light.

A moment later a small piece of the vase seemed to break away from the rest of the mosaic, as though it were knocked out from the inside. Then a large piece fell out, and another.

At last from the strange hiding place a lithesome figure, as shifty as though bathed in oil, naked except for a loincloth, seemed to squirm forth like a snake, literally as well as figuratively, had been leveled at us in one form or another ever since the kidnaping of Elaine.

Silently he tiptoed to the doorway and listened. There was not a sound. Just as noiselessly then he went back to the library table and, muffling the telephone bell, took down the receiver. He whispered a number, waited, then whispered some directions.

Long Sin followed his master with a sort of intuition. "If we have to steal it," he suggested deferentially, "it can be accomplished best by making use of the Chong Wah Tong."

The tong was the criminal band which they had offended, which had in fact stolen the ring from Long Sin and sold it to Elaine. Yet the game such as this, this only could not last when it was mutually disadvantageous.

Wu took the suggestion. He decided finally to make peace with his enemies and use them.

Later that night, in his car, Wu stopped near the little curio shop kept by the new tong leader.

Wu, followed by his slave in crime, entered the curio shop and passed through with great dignity into the room in the rear. As the two entered, the tong men bowed with great respect.

"Let us be enemies no more," began Wu briefly, "but let us rather help each other as brothers."

He extended his right hand, palm down, as he spoke. For a moment the tong leader parleyed with the others, then stepped forward and laid his own hand, palm down, over that of Wu. One of the others did the same, including Long Sin, the aggrieved.

Peace was restored.

Wu had arisen to go, and the tong men were bowing a respectful farewell. He turned and saw a large vase.

For a moment he paused before it. It was an enormous affair and was apparently composed of a mosaic of rare Chinese enamels, cunningly put together by the deft and patient fingers of the Oriental craftsmen.

Emerging from the widely curving bowl below was an extremely long, narrow, tapering neck.

We looked at it intently; then an idea seemed to strike him. He called the tong leader and the others about him.

Quickly he outlined the details of a plan.

"Have you received any word yet?" asked Aunt Josephine anxiously, when Jennings had ushered us into the Dodge library.

Kennedy shook his head sadly. A few minutes later Jennings entered the room softly again. "The expressmen are outside, ma'am, and a large package," he said.

Aunt Josephine followed him out into the hall.

There, already, the delivery man had set down a huge Oriental vase with a remarkably long and narrow neck. It was, as befitting such a really beautiful object of art, most carefully crated.

But to Aunt Josephine, it came as a complete surprise. "I can't imagine who could have sent it," she temporized. "Are you quite sure it is from me?"

The expressman, with a book, looked up from the list of names, down which he was running his finger. "This is Mrs. Dodge, isn't it?" he asked, pointing with his pencil to the entry with the address following.

"There seemed to be no name of a child in the list."

"Yes," she replied, dubiously. "But I don't understand it. Wait just a moment."

She went to the library door. "Mr. Kennedy," she said, "may I trouble you and Mr. Jameson a moment?"

We followed her into the hall, and there stood gazing at the mysterious gift, while she related its recent history.

"Why not set it up in the library?" I suggested, seeing that the expressmen were getting ready at the delay.

"If there is any mistake they will send for it. No one ever gets anything for nothing."

Aunt Josephine turned to the expressmen and nodded. With the aid of Jennings they carried the vase into the library, and there it was uncrated.

Craig walked around the vase, looking at it critically. I had a feeling of being watched, one of those sensations which psychologists tell us are usually a sign of fear.

"What do you think of it, Walter?" I asked, holding up the replica.

"Perfect," I replied, admiringly. "What are you going to do with it?"

"I can't say—yet," answered Kennedy, forlornly, "but if I understand these Chinese criminals at all, I know that the only way we can ever track them is through some trick. Perhaps the replica will suggest something to us later."

"Let's see if Aunt Josephine has received any word," he remarked abruptly, putting on his hat and coat, and nodding to me to follow.

Kennedy and I were not the only visitors to the subterranean chamber where it had seemed that the clue to the Clutching Hand's millions might be found.

It was as though that hidden, watching eye had known. The night after our own unsuccessful search, Wu Fang accompanied by Long Sin, made his way into the cavern.

We hurried over to his henchman, and together they tried to decipher what had been scratched on the rock.

As Long Sin's slender and sinister forefingers traced over the inscription Wu suddenly caught him by the elbow.

"The ring!" he cried, as at last he interpreted the meaning of the cryptic characters.

But what about the ring? For a moment Wu looked at the slot in deep thought. Then he reached down and withdrew a ring from his own finger and dropped it into the slot.

Nothing happened. Wu recovered his ring. But he had hit at last upon the Clutching Hand's secret!

Bennett had devised a ring lock which would open the treasure vault! No other ring except the one which had been to the hilt with the size or weight that would move a lever which would set the machinery working to open the treasure house.

Again Wu tried another of his own rings, and a third time; Long Sin dropped in a ring from his finger. Still there was no result.

Aunt Josephine, clasping the jewel case tightly, mounted the stairs and entered her room. She locked the door carefully and put the jewelry case under her pillow. Then she switched off the light.

CANDIDATES' CARDS

INvariably IN ADVANCE.
For State and District Offices.....$15 00
For County Offices.....10 00
For City and County Dist. Offices. 5 00

We are authorized to announce that the following persons are Democratic candidates for the offices under which their names appear, to be voted for at the primary elections in August 1915 and 1916.

STATE AND DISTRICT OFFICES.

Primary August, 1915.

FOR AUDITOR

H. H. Colyer.

CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE.

W. R. Shackelford.

J. M. Benton.

COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.

B. A. Crutcher.

FOR STATE SENATOR

N. B. Turpin

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

John F. White.

Walter Q. Park

Frank Leslie Russell

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

James W. Waggers.

Hugh M. Samuels

FOR COUNCILMAN

W. L. Leeds

COUNTY OFFICES.

Primary, August 1917.

FOR SHERIFF

Long Tom Chenault.

G. W. Trim Deshler.

Samson Turpin.

P. S. Whitlock.

FOR JAILER:

Chas. S. Rogers

G. W. Dearinger.

Aaron Sharp.

FOR ASSESSOR.

W. F. Jarman.

J. W. Barclay.

Jerry B. Chambers.

Cyrus T. Stone.

Greeley Barnes

J. S. Gott

Fair Dates for 1915

Mr. Sterling, Montgomery county, July 21—four days.

Danville Boiley county, July 21—three days.

Harrodsburg, Mercer county, July 27, four days.

Berea, Madison county July 29—three days.

Winchester, Clark county, July 28—four days.

LEXINGTON, BLUE GRASS FAIR, August 2—six days.

Mr. Vernon, Rockcastle county, August 4—three days.

Broadhead, Rockcastle county, August 11—three days.

Lawrenceburg, Anderson county, August 17—four days.

Stanford, Lincoln county, August 8—three days.

London, Laurel county, August 24—three days.

Nicholasville, Jessamine county, August 24—three days.

Shelbyville, Shelby county August 24—four days.

Somerset, Pulaski county, August 31—four days.

Bardstown, Knox county, September 1—three days.

LOUISVILLE STATE FAIR, September 13—six days.

Must Pay Debts

Eight thousand Government clerks in Washington have been warned to pay their debts or get out. And they should be made to walk the plank if they don't do it. In hard times their salaries go down. If they were not well paid for their ability they would seek other employment. And in paying debts all other regularly salaried men, in public or private station, should be likewise punctual. Mechanics whose employment is irregular have some excuse for getting behind, in dull times, with their obligations, but the clerk whose salary goes down every week in the year has no excuse for not living within his means.

See Brock & Evans for Tornado Insurance.

19 ft

A Cough Remedy That Relieves

It's prepared from the healing Pine Balsam, Tar and Honey—all mixed in a pleasant, soothing Cough Syrup called Dr. Bell's Pine Tar-Honey. Thousands have benefited by its use—no need of your enduring that annoying Cough or risking a dangerous Cold. Go to your dealer, ask for a 25c original bottle Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey, start using at once and rid of your Cough and Cold.

adv.

Feed of all kinds delivered to any place in Richmond at lowest prices. Elmer Tate, Irvine St. Phone 735. 41f

The Gentleman and the Grouch

Stand a Gentleman and a grouch side by side, and which will command the greater respect?

Webster says that a gentleman is a man of "refined manners and good behavior," while the grouch is "gruff and morose."

It is easy for any man to be a gentleman, and he has much to gain and nothing to lose.

It is equally easy to be a grouch, with everything to lose and nothing to gain.

The gentleman has many friends and few enemies, while the grouch has many enemies and few friends.

God smiles upon the gentleman, while devil smiles at the grouch.

Life is bright to the gentleman, while to the grouch it is full of gall.

Be a gentleman if you can, but don't be a grouch.

H. C. JAMES

will buy or sell your house, farm, town lots or any thing else in the Real Estate line. Any business intrusted to him will be promptly and carefully attended to. See him if his services are needed.

I represent iron bound Insurance Companies — remember this.

H. C. JAMES

Stunning Street Costumes For the Summer Girl

Bits of Byplay

By Luke McLuke

Copyright, 1915, the Cincinnati Enquirer

Ouch!
A young mule was drinking milk from a pail. He twisted the tail.
"Of the mule. Draw the veal!"
Farewell to another blamed rule!

Famous After Dinner Speeches.
"Give me the check!"
"Bring me a cigar!"
"Make mine a crepe de menthe!"
"Gee, I'm full up to here!"
"That wasn't a steak; it was an old shoe!"

How long was that chicken sick before it died?"
"Keep the change!"
"Thank you, sir!"

Huhl
"The sun is growing stronger."
Said hardup Mr. Devver:
"The days are growing longer,
But I'm as short as ever."

The Wise Fool.
"It is not good for man to be alone."
But suppose he only has the price of one drink?" interrupted the fool.

Fact.
This world would be a region blist.
And this is fact I speak to you.
If we would only do our best
As often as we say we do.

Paw Knows Everything.
Willie—Paw, what is a man's better half?
Paw—A woman who tries to be the whole thing, my son.
Paw—Willie, you go out and take a walk.

Not Yet, but Soon.
He'll soon be here. Hell soon be due.
I'm speaking of the fat head who says.
Says, "Is it hot enough for you?"

In Which Todd Gets Messies.
Miss Ella Measles, a well-known young lady of the northern part of the county, and William M. Todd were married Tuesday.—Exchange.

Ain't It Fine!
The finest hour is shortly after dawn.
You wake to note the time with a glad smile;
You cuddle up and with a happy yawn.
You say, "I guess I'll sleep a little while."

The Graduate of the Correspondence School of Journalism Lands a Job.

Last Thursday as Mrs. Charles Paul started on her trip to give music lessons and when she had reached the depot the horse became frightened at the train noise and made some sudden halts and backward turns, then the horse stopped, reared and kicked, and south pell-mell, and by the assistance of E. J. Snyder, stopped him with some difficulty, which landed through the fence, but as luck would be, Mrs. Paul escaped from being injured, which might have caused instant death and demolished buggy and harness, but was lucky in it all.—Exchange.

A Dollar With a Soul.

It is refreshing in this strenuous commercial life to find so many dollars with souls. When a dollar is approached to perform a task that does not directly yield the highest rate of interest, we usually hear the rustle of the eagle's wings as it soars upward; when a dollar is requested to return at the option of the borrower, it usually appeals to the Goddess of Liberty for its contractual rights; when a dollar is asked to expand in volume to suit the requirements of industry, it usually takes solemnly of its redeemer, but soul material has entered into the vaults of our banks and rate, time and volume have a new basis of reckoning in so far as the ability of some of the bankers permit them to co-operate in promoting the business of farming.

God Almighty's Noblemen.

These bankers are God Almighty's noblemen. Heaven lent earth the spirit of these men and the angels will help them roll in place the cornerstones of empires. They are not philanthropists; they are wise bankers. The spirit of the builder is within them; the banker is the redeemer, but soul material has entered into the vaults of our banks and rate, time and volume have a new basis of reckoning in so far as the ability of some of the bankers permit them to co-operate in promoting the business of farming.

The Devil's Work.

The reason why a man always gets mad when he is arguing politics is because the man he is arguing with is a thick head who has neither sense nor reason.

Your debts may seem big to you. But how would you like to be the world and owe every man a living?

Somehow or other the affinity microscope never bites the woman who does her own washing and ironing and the rest of the housework.

The difference between courtship and marriage is the difference between being alone and going to see a girl when you want to and being alone and go and see her when you don't want to.

A man often gets into the house after midnight without his wife hearing him. But he never gets out of the house in the morning without hearing his wife.

About 25,000 dead ones walk right past an undertaker's door every day in the year.

The man who gets mad because a girl tries to flirt with him when he is with his wife is the same fellow who gets mad because a girl won't flirt with him when his wife isn't along.

Invisible face powder is visible to everybody but the woman who uses it.

There is no such creature. But you can be a friend by calling a man a level headed, and you can start a fight by calling him flat headed.

When a man is afraid to hit his wife he consols himself with the fact that he has strong will power.

A lot of the members of the American strategy board who know how to end the war in Europe have an awful time trying to figure out ways and means to dig up the price of another war.

Summer Aches and Pains.

That headache or stiff muscle that cannot be explained on account of having "sat in a draft and caught cold" is more than likely the result of weakened or disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills promptly relieve backache, sore, swollen or stiff muscles and joints, rheumatism, and sleeping disturbing bladder ailments. They put the kidneys in sound, healthy condition, and help them eliminate urea and other poisons from the system.

Sold Everywhere.

Tents at Parks' Hill.

We will sell you a new tent, size 12x14 for $12.50, and lease you a lot for the season, for $10, with season ticket. We will store your tent free of charge, until next summer, and if you don't want to come back, we'll pay you half price for it. Season opens with Park's Hill Camp Ground, Myers ky.

Sebring

Their various cases in one great point combine.

The business of their lives—that is to dine.

Young.

And when you dine you want the best china—Sebring—it rings!

13 if

BANKERS URGED TO CO-OPERATE WITH FARMERS

SOUL MATERIAL HAS ENTERED THE BANK VAULTS OF THE NATION.

The Bank a Financial Power House to the Community.

By Peter Radford.

One of the greatest opportunities in the business life of the nation lies in practical co-operation of the country banks with the farmer in building agriculture and the adventure is laden with greater possibilities than any forward movement now before the American public.

The few bankers have loaned money to farmers at a low rate of interest, and oftentimes without compensation, to buy blooded livestock, build silos, fertilize the land, secure better seed, market price, etc. The banker in contributing toward improving the grade of livestock; the quality of the seed and the fertility of the soil, plants and the agricultural life of the community a fountain of profit, that like Tennyson's brook, runs on and on forever.

Community Progress a Bank Asset.

The time was when money loaned on such a basis would severely test the character of the banker, but the time of the depression would make the director like a blow in the face. A cashier who would dare to cast bread upon waters that did not return buttered side up in time for annual dividends would have to give way to a more capable man. This does not necessarily mean that the bankers are getting any better or that the milk of human kindness is being imbued more freely by our financiers. It indicates that the bankers are getting wiser, becoming more able financiers and the banking industry more competent. The vision of the builder is growing out of the spirit of the people, the broker's light hand has turned on a new world of investment and no user ever received as large returns on the investment as those progressive bankers, who made loans to uplift industry. The bankers have always been liberal city builders, but they are now building agriculture.

A Dollar With a Soul.

It is refreshing in this strenuous commercial life to find so many dollars with souls. When a dollar is approached to perform a task that does not directly yield the highest rate of interest, we usually hear the rustle of the eagle's wings as it soars upward; when a dollar is requested to return at the option of the borrower, it usually appeals to the Goddess of Liberty for its contractual rights.

When a dollar is asked to expand in volume to suit the requirements of industry, it usually takes solemnly of its redeemer, but soul material has entered into the vaults of our banks and rate, time and volume have a new basis of reckoning in so far as the ability of some of the bankers permit them to co-operate in promoting the business of farming.

The success of the nation is in the hands of the farmer.

Work for the best and the best will rise up and reward you.

Tenant farming is just one thing after another without a pay day.

DOCTORS USING AMOLOX WITH GREAT SUCCESS

This remarkable lotion, coming from a prominent physician engaged in active practice for over 25 years proves the merit of this wonderful new remedy.

I have used Amolox in four different cases with excellent results. All showed marked improvement from the start. Two apparently are cured, the skin being

Fire Insurance Tornado

Telephone 707.

We still have a few
Rugs and Carpet Samples that we are selling
At a Bargain

Bennett and Higgins
Furniture and Undertaking

PAINTING TIME If you use FOY'S PAINTS you will be delighted with the results. Brilliance of Color and Remarkable Durability make Foy's Paints preferable. For sale by

Madison Drug Company
First and Main Streets
WE TREAT YOU RIGHT
Pure Drugs and Medicines, Toilet Articles, Window Glass, Paints and Varnishes

THIS OFFICE DOES THE BEST JOB PRINTING

It Always Helps
says Mrs. Sylvanus Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic
trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

Get a Bottle Today!

AUTO BUS
Will meet all trains. Will call for you and your baggage. Never too busy to serve you
YOUR BUSINESS SOLICITED
JOHN W. AZBILL
Office in rear of Hotel Glyndon
Phones 399 and 710

McKinney and Deatherage
Millet, Cane Seed and Cow Peas

Field and Garden Seeds of all kinds, Chicken Feeds, Grits and Poultry Medicines, Purina, Prepared Molasses Feed
PROMPT DELIVERY SERVICE

35 TWO PHONES 42
West Main Street

BURNAM'S INSURANCE AGENCY

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson III.—Third Quarter, For July 18, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

Text of the Lesson, I Kings iii, 4-15. Memory Verses, 8, 10—Golden Text, Prov. ix, 10—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

In every record there are the two sides, God's and ours. His is always perfect; ours is the failure. The sinfulness of man and the wonderful grace of God sum up one phase of the whole Bible story. Last week we saw the beginning of the life of the king and prospering (I Chron. xxii, 28). Today we are told that Solomon loved the Lord, walking in the statutes of David, his father, only he sacrificed and burnt incense in high places (verse 3). That "only" does not sound well, nor does the affinity with Pharaoh, King of Egypt, of verse 1. It looks like the beginning of wandering, a heart not perfect with the Lord. Egyptian fellowship, as well as horses and wives, should be avoided. David, I Chron. xvii, 16-17. In II Chron. vi, 1, we read that "the Lord's God was with him and magnified him exceedingly and strengthened him in his kingdom." More he could not ask, and all that was required of him was to walk before God in truth with all his heart and soul (I Kings ii, 3, 4).

The ark of God was in the tent which David had prepared for it at Jerusalem, but the tabernacle of Moses with the brazen altar and all the other furniture was at Gibeon (I Chron. i, 3-5), and there Solomon and all his golden attendants made many burnt offerings (lesson verse 4).

In every sacrifice we should see the Son of God and His one great offering once for all, by virtue of which not only salvation, but every blessing, comes to us sinners. In all the Old Testament story were many offerings and many kinds, but all pointed to Golgotha and were all fulfilled in Him, so that to us Christ is all. That night after the great sacrifice the Lord God appeared to Solomon, saying, "Ask what you will give them." Verse 5, II Chron. 4, 7. He who spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how shall He not with Him also freely give us all things?" (Rom. viii, 32.) "If ye shall ask anything in my name I will do it" (Rom. xiv, 14). These and many similar assurances are ours, but who has proved the power of them? We must ask according to His will and that He may be glorified and then rest in the Lord and wait patiently for Him. For the time comes and way are always best.

Up to this time Solomon was very humble and conscious of his unfitness for such a position, for he says, "I am but a little child; I know not how to go out or come in" (verse 7). Such an attitude toward God is always sure of His help and guidance. See Jer. 1, 7-9; II Chron. xx, 12. Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom with all its righteousness and peace and joy even while on the way to the kingdom. Solomon summed up his need, as he then saw it, in his request for a wise and understanding heart, that he might discern between good and bad and rule the people righteous. The Lord was pleased with his request and granted him what he asked and all things he did not ask for, such as riches and honor, so that both in wisdom, riches and honor he excelled all others (verses 12, 13). After his vision or dream he manifested his gratitude by offering sacrifices to God at Jerusalem (15). There are two expressions in this lesson for various reasons worthy of special attention. Solomon in his request said that the people over whom he ruled were like the dust of the earth in multitude, and it is written that that is on the seashore (II Chron. i, 9; I Kings iv, 29). The two expressed "dust of the earth" and "sand upon the seashore" seem to cover the same ground. Compare Gen. xiii, 16; xxii, 17.

The thought seems to be that God gave Solomon wisdom to meet each individual case as it might arise. A notable illustration is given in I Kings 16-28. It is written that Solomon's wisdom excelled the wisdom of all the children of the east country and all the wisdom of Egypt, for he was wiser than all men; and there came of all people to hear the wisdom of Solomon, from all kinds of the earth which had heard of his wisdom (I Kings 10, 20, 21, 24). We cannot but think of the wisdom of Joseph and of Daniel, which was greater than all the wisdom of Egypt and of Babylon, in their days. But what is that to me? He who gave this wisdom still lives and is Himself the power of God and the wisdom of God; the Son of God who loved me and gave Himself for me (I Cor. i, 24; Gal. ii, 20). It is written, "If any of you lack wisdom let him ask of God, . . . and it shall be given him, but let him ask in faith nothing wandering." There is a wisdom that is earthly, sensual, devilish, but the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle and easy to be entreated (James 3, 16-17). We can continually strive to know the way wherein we may walk and the thing that we may do, and to pray, "Cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, for it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps" (Jer. xxx, 3; x, 23; Ps. xxxii, 8), if only we are honest in our desire for guidance and seek not our own will or pleasure. Then we shall experience Isa. xxx, 21.

Best prices in town on hay, corn, oats, field seeds, etc., at Elmer Tate's, Irvine street. Phone 793. 4-tt

Are You Feeling Fit?

Do you envy the man or woman of untiring energy, strong body and happy disposition? All these depend upon good health, and good health is impossible when the kidneys are weak, overworked or diseased. Foley Kidney Pills, act promptly and help the kidneys filter the blood and cast out the poisonous waste products that cause sore and swollen muscles and joints, backache, rheumatism, and the symptoms that give warning of dangerous kidney and bladder ailments.

At Kansas City, Mo., James E. Connally bought two miles from Alonso Parish, who represented them to be sound. Later it was found that each mule had a crook in his tail. Connally sued. The Court of Appeals made an examination, and verified the fact that they did have crooked tails. This proved conclusively that the mules were not sound, and gave Connally a verdict. Parish's claim that a mule with a crooked tail can do much farm work as a mule with a straight tail, was not considered.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62. 7-tt

STOCK AND FARM :

We print more Farm News than any paper in Eastern Kentucky. Please give us your items.

LABOR LEADER IS AMONG TESTIFIERS

Charles Peetz Tells How Tanlac Brought Him Ready Relief.

Louisville, Ky., July 13 1915. Here is what Charles Peetz, prominent labor leader of 101 West Market street, this city, has to say about Tanlac, the premier preparation, and the benefits derived from the use of the medicine:

"I have been in a half sick condition for months. I was all run down, nervous, and had no appetite. My stomach was bad, out of order and my digestion was bad. I often had headaches and was depressed in spirits.

"I find that Tanlac just exactly suits my case. After using the medicine about a week or ten days, my appetite and digestion are much better. I now sleep better and feel stronger in every way."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, that proved such a boon to Mr. Peetz and hundreds of others in Louisville and Kentucky, is now being taken with the most beneficial results by many of our citizens right here in Richmond. It is an excellent spring tonic, blood purifier and tissue builder.

Tanlac can be obtained in Richmond by H. L. Perry's Drug Store. adv.

Highly Complimentary.

The W. C. T. U. meeting, which has adjourned at Winchester, adopted a resolution highly complimentary to Judge Benton. In the course of the remarks it was said,

"Once to every man and nation Comes a moment to decide, In the strife of truth with falsehood, For the good or evil side.

Judge Benton has decided for Christ and those things which be of his kingdom.

Therefore, Madam President, I offer the following resolution and request its unanimous adoption:

Whereas, Judge J. M. Benton, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge, has voluntarily included in his platform those things which stand for morality, Christianity, and the uplift of any people; and

Whereas, His many other qualifications render his fitness for the office unquestionable, therefore, be it resolved,

Resolved, That the members of the local branch of the W. C. T. U. heartily endorse the candidacy of Judge J. M. Benton in his race for Circuit Judge of the 25th Judicial District and lend their prayers in supplication for his success in both the August primary and the final election.

As Easy, Pleasant Laxative

One or two Dr. King's New Life Pills with a tumbler of water at night. No bad, nauseating taste; no belching gas. Go right to bed. Wake up in the morning with a fresh, clear complexion.

The tobacco crop will be short, as many have set only a part of the crop planted. The ones who have finished much smaller crops than last year.

Fruit is plentiful, although people who have been watching the blackberry crop say that the yield will not be anything like as good as was indicated a short time ago, and that instead of their being an abundance, there will be a scarcity of the "poor man's crop."

There is quite a contrast in the amount of garden stuff in the county this year and last. Last year vegetables could hardly be secured, but everybody who has a garden this year has some fresh vegetables ready for use. The early potatoes are fine and more than the usual amount of ground went to this crop.

On the whole the crop outlook in this county is fairly good. Corn is making rapid growth, but on account of the wet weather the weeds have grown fast and the farmers are putting in all time possible in cultivating this crop and cutting the weeds. The prospects for a corn crop is much better than at this time last year.

Bluegrass pastures are excellent and there seems to be an abundance of grass now in all sections of the county, fields showing a very heavy sod, and stock of all kinds are running in pastures knee high in grass. Many of the larger cattle, however, are this season grazing clover instead of bluegrass and claim that they are getting better results from cattle, which were weighed when turned out, and then again put on the scales after a certain period of grazing, having shown a gain of three pounds a day.

W. G. P. Ledford, of Nicholas county, recently sold 65 shotes at $8 a hundred.

At the dispersion sale of Aberden Angus cattle held by George Grant in Scotland, 58 head averaged $230.

Press dispatches state that a goose, after having been entombed for sixty-two days, was extricated alive from the ruins caused by the earthquake at Avezzano, Italy.

W. T. Waggoner, of Feilds, Texas, has purchased from the King Ranch at Kingville, Texas, 3,000 yearling and 2 year old stock calves at an average of $37. a total of $111,000.

Caywood & McClintock, of Paris, have shipped more than 4,000 lambs to the New York market this season, that were purchased of Bourbon farmers at prices ranging from 7 to 8 cents per pound.

The Turkish tobacco crop of Smyrna is estimated at just a little more than half of last year. The shortage is due to lack of skilled tobacco growers, and is a result of the expulsion of the Greeks.

At Kansas City, Mo., James E. Connally bought two miles from Alonso Parish, who represented them to be sound.

Later it was found that each mule had a crook in his tail. Connally sued. The Court of Appeals made an examination, and verified the fact that they did have crooked tails. This proved conclusively that the mules were not sound, and gave Connally a verdict.

Parish's claim that a mule with a crooked tail can do much farm work as a mule with a straight tail, was not considered.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62. 7-tt

adv.

ESTILL COUNTY NEWS

In Circuit Court last week, Jesse Shepherd was given a sentence of two years in the penitentiary upon an indictment for breaking into a female against her will.

Tuesday morning the jury in the case of Jonah Richardson returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for two years. Richardson, together with his brother, Harlow Richardson, and Arch Harris were indicted for breaking into the West Irvine depot and carrying away goods belonging to various merchants to whom the goods had been shipped. The cases against the latter two were continued till the December term.

In the case of Joe Fox, charged with manslaughter, the jury Wednesday afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty. Fox killed Clarence Metalic at a religious gathering on Barnes Mountain about a year ago.

NEW ATTORNEY

Mr. Green Miller was examined at Richmond last Friday before Judge Benton for law license and was granted same after passing a very creditable examination.

A stubbornly fought game of base ball was played between the local boys and College Hill, last Saturday, resulted in victory for the locals. The game was played on the College Hill grounds and our boys were outclassed till the seventh inning when Tyrner was put on the slab and put a quietus on a batless rally that began early in the game. The score at the wind-up was 16 to 14.

The grand jury adjourned Thursday noon after being in session eight days. Thirty-five indictments were returned.

Signals of Distress

Richmond People Should Know How to Read and Hear Them

Disordered kidneys give many signals of distress. The secretions may be dark, containing sediment.

Passages are sometimes frequent, severe, painful. Backache is often present day and night.

Headaches and dizzy spells may occur. Don't delay. Use a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

M. M. Grinstead, 409 Walnut St., Richmond, says: "I had pains through my back and kidneys and the action of my kidneys was irregular and annoying. I used Doan's Kidney pills, procured from Middleton's Drug Store, and they cured me. I feel that I should tell others what a fine kidney medicine they are."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Grinstead had. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Opportunity

(By Burton Braley)

With doubt and dismay you are smitten.

You think there's no chance for you, son?

Why, the best books haven't been written.

The best race hasn't been run.

The song hasn't been sung.

The best tune hasn't been played yet.

Cheer up, for the world is young.

No chance? Why the world is just eager.

For things you ought to create.

Its store of true wealth is still meager.

It needs are incessant and great.

More laughter and love and romance.

More loyalty, labor and duty.

No chance—why there's nothing but chance!

For the best verse has not been rhymed yet.

The best house hasn't been planned.

The highest peak hasn't been climbed yet.

The mightiest rivers haven't been spanned.

Don't worry and fret, faint hearted.

The chances have just begun.

For the best jobs haven't been started.

The best work has not been done.

Did you see that hail storm last week?

Better take a tobacco hail policy with W. H. Crooke right away.

CHEAPEST ACCIDENT INSURANCE—Dr. Thomas' ELECTRIC OIL. For burns, scalds, cuts and emergencies. All druggists sell it. 25¢ and